

Presto UHP2

The new Ultra High Performance tyre built with advanced technologies delivering confident sporty driving with increased mileage. Debica Presto UHP2 with a new asymmetric tread pattern and competitive labelling is dedicated to the demanding customers who are looking for tires for cars with higher engine power at a reasonable price.

- Tread design with high number of biting edges, evacuate the water from the tread delivering more grip for the contact patch.
- Asymmetric tread pattern and optimized outside rib stiffness delivers effective force transmission for good dry performance at high speeds as well as braking distance.
- Tire designed to effectively disperse water to maximize dry contact patch of the tire with the road and reduce aquaplaning.
- Pressure is dispersed through the whole tread contact area spreading the wear evenly through the tire.
- New optimized rolling resistance chafer compound reduce fuel consumption.
