

HRS
HANKOOK RUNFLAT SYSTEM

Made only to run, never flat

Hankook Runflat System allow you to continue driving safely in the event of sudden or gradual deflation.

HRS is one of leaders in the world's run-flat market since the company started its development in 1998 the HRS employs Hankook Tire Technology's unique SIR(Sidewall Insert Rubber) technology with single layered profile that provides functions of shock absorption, maintaining specific distance and preventing.

Reinforced Sidewall Structure

Why Choose Runflat Tyres?

Normal Tyre

HRS Tyre

Safety

Allows drivers to maintain control of a vehicle in the event of rapid tyre air loss. Ensures vehicle mobility allowing drivers to easily maneuver out of dangerous driving situations. No need to jack-up vehicles to replace tyres in hazardous road conditions.

Normal Tyre

HRS Tyre

Convenience

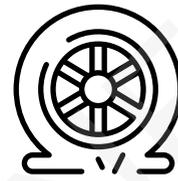

Allows continued driving until reaching a repair facility without changing punctured tyres.

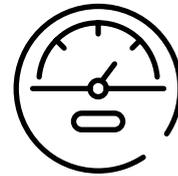

Fuel efficiency

Eliminates the need for a spare wheel, reducing vehicle mass. Saves fuel by 1~3% annually.

Benefits of self supporting runflat technology drive 80km with damaged tyres

at 80km/h speed

* You must, however, have a Tyre Pressure Monitoring System (TPMS).
